

Murat Tarakçiođlu

Cargill
Turkey

Born in 1970 in Istanbul, Murat Tarakcioglu got his secondary and high school education in Saint Benoit French School. He graduated from Bogazici University in 1994 with a BA in Business Management.

He joined Cargill in 1996 as Assistant Controller and has been the Cargill Turkey CEO since July 2005. Additional to his role in Cargill, he accepted Middle East and North Africa Business Development responsibility in May 2008. He also sits on the board of Pendik Niřasta Sanayii which was established in 1993 as a joint-venture of Ülker and Cerestar. Cerestar was purchased by Cargill in 2002.

Murat Tarakcioglu is also an active participant in civil society. He is a member of the Turkish Industrialists' and businessmen's association, and Starches and Glucose Producers Association. He is married and has two children.

